Benefits of Aerospace Certification:

- Provides access to the best practices of the aerospace industry.
- Demonstrates a commitment to on-time, on-quality performance.
- Allows access to the global marketplace.
- Reduces operating costs, improves profitability and timeliness.
- Enhances your marketability to existing and prospective customers.

Perry Johnson Registrars, Inc. (PJR) is accredited to offer third-party certification to AS9100 – Quality Management Systems Requirements for Aviation, Space and Defense Organizations, AS9110 – Quality Management System Requirements for Maintenance Organizations, and AS9120 – Quality Management Systems Requirements for Aviation, Space and Defense Distributors.

AS9100 incorporates all the elements of ISO 9001, plus additional elements unique to the aerospace industry. An important feature of AS9100 is the inclusion of some critical elements of MIL-Q, military specifications.

AS9110 was developed by the International Aerospace Quality Group (IAQG) in response to increasing demands for additional requirements that address MRO-specific concerns on safety, reliability, and airworthiness. AS9110 provides additional criteria for the maintenance and repair of private, commercial and military aircraft.

The 9120 standard was developed for use by organizations that procure parts, materials, and assemblies and resell these products to a customer in the aviation, space, and defense industries. It includes those organization that procure products and re-sell, without changing product configuration.

PJR is accredited by ANAB to certify companies to any of the three aerospace standards and registration to any of these standards is a two-step process.

PJR, Your Certification Partner

PJR knows certification. For two decades, we have provided certification services across many standards and across the globe. Here in the US, PJR was the #1 reporting Certification Body in North America in 2015.
